

Jenn Adams

SVP & President, Clinical Product Solutions

Jenn Adams is responsible for leading the PharMEDium and American Health Packaging (AHP) organizations for AmerisourceBergen, a Fortune 11 Healthcare corporation. She is charged with identifying opportunities for these businesses to best serve the clinical needs of their customers around patient-centric solutions related to medication safety.

Before assuming this role, Jenn served as PharMEDium's President, overseeing all facets of the business including sales, marketing, operations, supply chain, business development, quality, and clinical affairs. Prior to this, Jenn led PharMEDium's commercial organizations, including National Accounts, Inside

Sales and Outside Sales. Under Jenn's direct leadership, PharMEDium has grown to be a prominent market leader in the outsourced pharmacy services industry.

Jenn has over 25 years of sales, marketing, training, and product development experience. Prior to joining PharMEDium, Jenn was responsible for the sales team at Fenwal, a provider of products supporting life-saving blood therapies. Jenn has also held multiple senior level management positions at Baxter Healthcare Corporation in its Transfusion Therapies, Medication Delivery, and Electronic Infusion Systems businesses. Throughout her career, Jenn has taken pride in developing high performing teams to serve healthcare providers and their patients.

Jenn serves on the advisory board for the Women's Impact Network at AmerisourceBergen, an organization composed of an internal Senior Council of Women Leaders that maintains a focus on career development for women at all levels. She also serves on the advisory board for The American Heart Association's Go Red Goes STEM initiative, which exposes high school girls throughout Chicago to some of Chicago's leading science, technology and engineering companies as they showcase their innovative work. The initiative provides mentoring, breakout sessions led by top STEM-related organizations, and opportunities to make lasting connections with companies and women leaders.

Jenn holds an MBA from Northwestern University's Kellogg Graduate School of Management. She graduated from Barrington High School in 1986. She resides in Barrington Hills with her husband, Rob and two children (both attend Barrington 220 schools).
